HOW DID THE FUND PERFORM OVER THE PAST YEAR AND WHAT AFFECTED PERFORMANCE?

For the 12-month period ended March 31, 2026, the Fund produced a positive total return on an absolute basis, but underperformed its preferred benchmark, the Russell 1000® Index (the “Index”).

WHAT FACTORS INFLUENCED PERFORMANCE?

U.S. equity markets advanced meaningfully for the 12-month period, fueled by robust corporate earnings, U.S. Gross Domestic Product (GDP) growth, and a resilient labor market. Megacap technology companies continued to dominate the headlines and led the market rally.

The Fund’s investments within the Information Technology, Communication Services, and Energy sectors were the largest contributors to positive absolute performance throughout the fiscal year. The Fund had a meaningful positive impact from companies like Apple, NVIDIA, Marathon Petroleum, Valero Energy, and Alphabet. However, performance compared to the Index lagged due to structural portfolio construction differences. The Fund has dividend income characteristics which impacted relative performance compared to the Index, which included a concentration of growth stocks inappropriate for this portfolio.
